What We are Learning

Language Arts: We learned about the AI and AY sound and when to use each (ai in the middle of a word, ay at the end). We also learned how to change y to i when adding an ending like -er or -est.

Math: We continued practicing sums of 10 this week. Like double facts, having these facts memorized will help students as they progress to more difficult concepts. We also worked on counting by 100s and making congruent shapes.

Science: We focused on sound this week and learned how to change pitch (things that are short are high, and long is low). We also learned how people used sound to communicate with morse code.

Religion: We are still in our unit about prayer and are talking about why and how we pray as well as going over the meaning of some commonly memorized prayers.
